FROM THE DESK OF FR. MICHAEL POPE FRANCIS IN AMERICA

In what can only be described as a captivating week, we have witnessed the Vicar of Christ in our midst in our country this week. It has been a phenomenal experience to see this Pope loved by thousands, and his message declared with clarity and always in humility. The Popes energy for a man of 78 years of age, and one who lives with just one lung is truly amazing.

Over the last couple of years of his papacy, he has called us to think, and to have a greater conscience. Sometimes, as he has done on this journey, he has ruffled some feathers, and caused people to question him in regard to doctrine. But is this Pope really wrong, or is he calling us to be more Christ like and thoughtful?

When he speaks of global warming, or care for the environment, is he all wrong? Personally, I don't fully buy the global warming argument as I have spoken to meteorologist and admirals who have been in the Artic and Antarctica who have debunked global warming. However, the Pope is right that we must be stewards of God's creation. It is a fact that we have serious global polluters like China, and global greenhouse gases that are still high in many countries. It is also true that both corporations and individuals can do more to preserve the environment. Polluting our waterways with chemicals is wrong, and so is the disregard of natural lands. It is a proven fact that the natural landscape is being altered to the detriment of future generations. So, indeed we are called to care for God's beautiful creation.

Pope Francis is called a "liberal" because he calls us to be mindful of the less fortunate. He derides capitalism in the sense of its abuses. Christ didn't cast away the less fortunate, nor should we. Likewise, over-zealous capitalist greed by some is hurting future generations. There are some capitalist who have made a bundle at the expense of future generations by living in the unrealistic high of zero interest and cheap, borrowed money, and the increased debt of this country while letting our young people have to foot the future bill.

A prime example of this greed that Pope Francis speaks about is the greed that came to light this week. A young man, former hedge fund investor who recently bought a drug company, in his own selfish, evil, and greedy way, increased the cost of a life-saving drug. The per pill cost went from $13.50 to $750! He said he did it because the pill was making no profit and he wanted money for research and development. Are you kidding? Anyone who believes that can buy the Brooklyn Bridge.

So, is Pope Francis wrong to speak about this type of capitalism, and excess? Likewise, he is not wrong to call us to be mindful of the less fortunate. In his visit to a soup kitchen, he reminds us to love one another.

Our Holy Father should also receive praise for his latest Moto Proprio on divorced Catholics. He called for a more streamlined approach to applicable annulments. This is not promotion of divorce, but rather a welcome to those who have had a very horrific marriage to be invited to an annulment, and come back into the full graces of the Church. Gone is the extended delays that have torn people away from the faith.

Though priests are already permitted to absolve the sin of abortion in the Confessional in our country, the Pope has called all dioceses in the world to help women around the world through the sacrament. At the same time the Pope has emphatically called the taking of the child in the womb murder.

The chapter on the Francis papacy is long from completion, but no matter how you may look at him, he has called us to pause, be merciful, and care for all of God's gifts. Truly, there has not been a pope like him, and yes, sometimes it may be hard to accept every word he says, but if we step back, it will be a call to a deeper conscience, and understanding of who we are in life.

As I concelebrate with the Pope on this Sunday in Philadelphia, you will be in my prayers for a deeper faith, and a new found love for Jesus.

Father Michael

PASTOR NOTES

Blessing of Animals

In conjunction with our parish picnic, we are having our annual Blessing of Animals next Sunday after the Noon Mass. Our pets are part of our family, and this is a great way to celebrate God's creatures, who are here in this world to bring joy. In many ways, our pets are impeccably important to the family life, and present a great gift to each of us. The annual blessing is that gift we give to our pets to be blessed for the year ahead.

St. Francis Day Picnic

We invite the faithful to make every effort to come to this year's parish picnic after the Noon Mass. The annual picnic is a great time to visit with fellow parishioners and to meet new ones. This event is our parish gift back to our faithful. So, put aside the football games and other activities and come to the Noon Outdoor Mass, and picnic to follow. I believe the 2 to 3 hours will be some great enjoyment. Remember, we have the picnic rain or shine! Please sign-up after Mass if you plan to attend, or call the rectory office so we are sure to have enough food for all.

Sisters of St. Francis Annual Raffle

Please support our Sisters with their annual raffle this coming weekend. The Sisters of St. Francis have served our parish for many years and continue to this day. We are most grateful.

Congrats to our K of C and Rosary

I would like to congratulate our Rosary Society on picking up four new members last week. That is outstanding when you consider that most parishes are eliminating Rosary Societies because of poor membership and lack of interest. I wish to also congratulate our Knights of Columbus for having another successful golf outing. Both organizations are a great asset to this parish and I thank them.

CCD and Confirmation

It was great to see our kids back in class the last couple of weeks. Their excitement energizes me each and every day and it gives me great joy to teach the 8th and 10th Grade. I also thank the catechists for their volunteering to help these children grow in faith.

RCIA

I really encourage people to receive the fullness of their sacramental life. If you have yet to receive your Confirmation, or if you are considering receiving your sacraments, or becoming a Catholic, please contact the parish office, or speak to one of the priests, deacons, or Mary Beth who is our coordinator of RCIA.

SISTERS OF ST. FRANCIS ANNUAL RAFFLE

RAFFLE

This year the Sisters of St. Francis are celebrating 160 years of service to the People of God. The sisters have served in the ministries of Education, Health Care, Retreat Work, Social Services which includes prison ministry, shelter for homeless families, Peace and Justice Initiatives and much, much more. As our Sisters reach their autumn years and are unable to continue their various ministries, our intention is to provide as best we can for their care. The proceeds from the annual raffle go directly to fund our retirement home, Assisi House, in Aston, PA. Sisters will be here next weekend, October 3rd and 4th after all the Masses. A $10.00 donation toward the Sisters of St. Francis Annual Raffle enables us to bring light, hope and healing to our senior sisters in our retirement home. Please come prepared with address labels and cash, or a check made out to the Sisters of St. Francis Foundation. Thank you for your support.
